This session will focus on three innovative programs that have had successful partnerships with AGs.

Moderator: Mike Moore, Moore Law Firm LLC
Panel:
♦ Robbie Callaway, Chair. Cal Ripken, Sr. Foundation
Cal Ripken, Sr. Foundation – Badges for Baseball

The Cal Ripken, Sr. Foundation, in partnership with the U.S. Department of Justice, has developed Badges for Baseball as a community crime prevention initiative to prevent and resolve problems of crime and disorder by encouraging healthy out-of-school activities that improve relationships between police and urban youth. Through collaboration and partnerships with community-based youth organizations, Badges for Baseball uses baseball and softball as the platform to match up at-risk youth with law enforcement professionals as mentors and coaches, and focuses on teaching life skills such as leadership, work ethic, perseverance, good health habits and respect.
Roxanne Spillett, President, Boys & Girls Club of America

Boys & Girls Clubs of America
In every community, boys and girls are left to find their own recreation and companionship in the streets. An increasing number of children are at home with no adult care or supervision. Young people need to know that someone cares about them.

Boys & Girls Clubs offer that and more. Club programs and services promote and enhance the development of boys and girls by instilling a sense of competence, usefulness, belonging, and influence. Boys & Girls Clubs are a safe place to learn and grow – all while having fun. They are truly the Positive Place for Kids.

Randy Hopper, Partner, Zimmerman Reed, P.L.L.P.
Communities in Schools
Communities in Schools (CIS) champion the connection of needed community resources with schools to help young people successfully learn, stay in school, and prepare for life.

Communities in Schools is a network of nonprofit organizations focused on improving student and school success by providing needed support and services to students and schools. Their ultimate goal is to see that all students are successful in school and complete their education at least through high school.

Communities in Schools believes that programs don’t change kids, relationships do. Their philosophy is embedded in the CIS five basics for kids©, which focus on building a supportive environment for children and youth to help them thrive and be successful. The CIS five basics were adopted by America’s Promise when it started in 1997.

Registered Sex Offender Locator Program: Tracking Sexual Predators
Andy Russell, ChoicePoint Government Services

More than half a million registered sex offenders live in the United States. An estimated 20% fail to comply with registration rules, meaning their whereabouts are unknown. This creates a significant challenge for law enforcement and, given the high sex offender recidivism rate (74%), poses a major threat to public safety.

The latest technology allows law enforcement to find and monitor “lost” sex offenders and continually documents their new addresses as they move around within registration compliance requirements. Our speaker will demo the latest technology in use by law enforcement.

♦ David E. Nahmias, U.S. Attorney, N.D. of GA
♦ David McLaughlin, Senior Assistant Attorney General, Georgia Department of Law

The speakers will discuss federal and state law enforcement approaches to preventing, investigating and prosecuting residential mortgage fraud in Georgia. Federal prosecution of residential mortgage fraud has been a priority of the Northern District since the late 1990s. Mr. Nahmias’ office has seen the successful prosecution of some of the nation’s largest mortgage fraud cases, including the recent conviction of Phillip Hill, whose fraud ring crippled the condo market in metro-Atlanta. General Baker’s office has taken a leadership role on the state level for the past seven years. Mr. Baker was instrumental in passing the nation’s first residential mortgage fraud law. Together, the two offices have worked to educate the public, industry and law enforcement in the prevention, detection and investigation of residential mortgage fraud. Georgia can serve as a model for United States Attorneys and state Attorneys General to work together in combating this growing area of crime.
